Forum de Physique Statistique @ ENS

Mercredi 30 Mars 2022, 14 :30
LPENS, Salle Djebar (29 rue d'Ulm)(Informal blackboard talk. Come in person if possible ; otherwise, please ask xiangyu.cao@ens.fr for a zoom link.)
Domaines : cond-mat.stat-mech

Titre : What can statistical systems teach us about black holes and cosmology ?

Orateur : Anous Tarek (University of Amsterdam)

Résumé : I will overview some open questions in gravitational systems which have natural condensed matter analogs. In this overview i will try to stress how condensed matter models give insights into the nature of spacetime.
